Artist Profile

Iam Maestro Riko is a multidisciplinary artist, producer, audio engineer, live performer, musical director, facilitator, and program architect whose practice connects R&B/Soul and Hip-Hop/Rap, improvisation, storytelling, live looping, and community engagement.

He handles all production and engineering for his music. Through I Am Maestro LLC, his work moves across recorded music, performance, creative aging, youth and family programming, guided authorship, reentry, and immersive sound experiences.

Newly based in Colorado Springs, he is building relationships with musicians, venues, radio, media, cultural institutions, and community organizations while continuing a practice developed through prior work in Atlanta and Tucson.

The Current Chapter

Iam Maestro Riko is establishing the next local chapter of a wider artistic and community practice. The immediate focus is genuine relationship building with Colorado musicians, venues, radio programmers, media, creative institutions, and community organizations.

The work carries forward relationships and lessons developed in Atlanta and Tucson while creating room for new airplay, interviews, performance, session work, collaboration, and community partnerships in Colorado. Music remains both an artistic practice and a way of creating relationship.

Creative practice

- Original R&B/Soul and Hip-Hop/Rap grounded in songwriting, self-production, and self-engineering.
- Live performance built around improvisation, looping, rhythm, and audience connection.
- Facilitated experiences that use sound, story, movement, play, and reflection to support participation and expression.

Performance and Community Practice

Iam Maestro Riko brings a musical director's ear and a producer's rig to the stage. In solo performance, he works as a one-person band, moving between MPC, percussion, keys, guitar, live looping, vocals, rap, and facilitated audience exchange.

Composed records can enter the set as a DJ might sequence them, but they become source material for live production. He rebuilds, layers, and improvises in real time, so no song or set is performed the same way twice. The format can stand alone or expand through his live-band curation and musical direction.

808s and Meditate A live immersive set that weaves bass-forward production, improvisation, breath, movement, reflection, and facilitation into one continuous arc.

TAP Sessions Music-centered engagement for elder-care, assisted-living, memory-care, and community settings.

Guided Authorship Facilitated reflection and expression for reentry, workforce, recovery, and human-service partners.

YANA A flexible creative pathway for youth, young adults, families, and referral partners.
